

Doom to the World (parody of "Joy to the World")

Doom to the world
The time has come
For God to punish you
He listened to your blasphemy
He will ignore your cry and plea
No prayer will change his mind
No prayer will change his mind
It's too late; it's too late to change his mind

This nation's lost
It's way too late
For God to bless this land
We warned you not to marry fags
So many dead in body bags
But you ignored our words
But you ignored our words
There's no excuse, because you heard the words

This world is doomed
A few short days
Is all that's left to wait
You cursed the only living God
You mocked Him when He used His rod
United in your lies
United in your lies
Just waiting in terror as you watch the skies

This world is lost
Your false prophets
They gave you what you want
To satisfy your burning lust
You told these preachers that they must
Promote your endless sins
And let the fags come in
So now God will punish you for those great sins
