

Christ Will Reign for Evermore (Parody of Evermore by Alan Menken and Tim Rice on Beauty & the Beast)

God on His own created all
Foreordained all mankind's fate
No one with Him when He hung the stars in place
Blessed and only Potentate

He set before mankind His law
No law of man, can e're compare
All his decrees – etched on mankind's wicked heart
All His laws, nature declares

Now He's promised blessings for us
To his sheep who will obey
But torment awaits you, He will curse you
If you disobey

He is King, our only Tower
He is standing at the door
A Kingdom without mortal sin
Christ will reign for evermore

You rage against God's Holy Law
You love the darkness, hate the light
Christ on His earthly throne, with iron rod will rule
He'll set this earth aright

In mercy, with His angels coming
Lord of Lords, His name in full view
Every knee will bow, every tongue will Confess and know the truth

He is King, our only Tower
He is standing at the door
A Kingdom without mortal sin
And as all eternity begins
His saints in glory without end
Christ will reign for evermore