

Wrecking Ball (Parody of "Wrecking Ball" by Miley Cyrus)

So proud, so vain, your hearts in chains
You rage never asking why Your lies, your sin, your lust defend,
"God's love for everyone" you lie

Don't you ever say we just walked away
We will always warn you You've made God a lie, ruining children's lives
We've been sent to warn you

His Word is like a wrecking ball
Dividing who he hates and loves
Jesus warned you to repent or fall
Who has warned you from his - wrath
to flee?
Yeah He's your enemy

God sits on high up in the sky
But He promised to come down As this earth turns, God's wrath, it burns
You'll soon be ashes on the ground

You just won't repent, doom is imminent
God will always hate you Sin defines your life, you will pay the price
God will always hate you

His Word is like a wrecking ball
Dividing who he hates and loves
Jesus warned you to repent or fall
Who has warned you from his - wrath
to flee?

He's coming like a wrecking ball
His crushing wrath has just begun
He's been warning you since Adam's fall
He has blinded you so you'll never see Yeah He's your enemy!

You're never gonna win this war
Time has come for you to pack it in
And instead of hating Words
You should be hating all your sin

You're never gonna win this war
Time has come for you to pack it in

Don't you ever say we just walked
We will always warn you

His Word is like a wrecking ball
Dividing who he hates and loves
Jesus warned you to repent or fall
Who has warned you from his - wrath to flee?

He's coming like a wrecking ball
His crushing wrath has just begun
see
Yes He's your enemy
Here comes eternity!
